

Water Wacko— weekend at Guzzies

A bunch of RBR folk are gathering at the Superheros secret hideaway at Lake Moogerah on the 10th/11th January (yep, this weekend).

In the theme of nothing organised/nothing planned in 2026 this is exactly that, nothing. Just good friends catching up at a beautiful location to shoot the breeze, have a laugh and enjoy the little things in life for no other reason other than just that.

Anyone is most welcome to pop in/pop out at anytime over the weekend. RB will be there from Saturday arvo to Sunday arvo as will some great RBR friends and familiar faces.

If you would like to join in, please feel free to come on down. BYO everything. Green grass and spectacular views provided. Welcome to day trip, camp or if you want to live it up, Aratula & Mt Alford are the nearest towns.

If you are coming maybe shoot RB or Gaz a quick message for a 'heads up' or just rock on up.

Goin Bush— Dings Fling

While there are no RBR events planned or organised for this year a few regulars are getting a band of like minded rally friends together and going bush for a week. Very low key with minimal fuss. It is only early days so not much detail just yet but that's pretty much how it will all play out anyhow. Simple, no fuss and no real plan other than everyone following a common course to a common camp with a common goal, which is to: 'go bush and have fun'.

Overview at this stage:

Purpose & Focus: Get out and away for a week, drive bush roads and tracks, have a good time with mates

Entrants: All current and old rally entrants and officials, plus friends who wish to join us.

Dates: Meet in Toowoomba Saturday evening, 12th July

Leave Sunday morning to travel for 6 days out bush

Finish on Friday arvo, 17th somewhere back towards the South-east corner of Qld

Saturday go home.

Vehicles: old rally cars or anything that can cop a bit of rough going

Scoring: there will be no timing or scoring.

Entry fee: TBA

Accommodation: may be available, but probably not.

Catering: self-catering or pay for meals if available at overnight stops.

Camping: may have some camping fees, to be paid at the time

If this is of interest to you keep the date in mind and we will feed more info out when and as it comes to hand. A good bunch of people have expressed their interest so should be a great crowd to go bush with. When or if you need to know any more:

2025 Super— Photo Albums

Thanks for waiting and just in case you are wondering, your 2025 Super rally photo albums are well and truly under construction and will be on their way in the not too distance future. Getting everything together and constructing the books is a pretty big team effort and we have been slowly chipping away whenever time permits. While it's been difficult to find the time and focus required the good news is they will definitely be worth the wait. They will look sensational and a very proud 'pool room' memento to cherish forever. Every book is made on a labour of love and personalised to your car and crew. As we make each one they will be posted to you directly.

Rally good mates— Burnsie & the Hummer

Fitting right into our year of nothing planned Michelle and I recently enjoyed an impromptu catch up with our dear friend Burnsie. Travelling back to Queensland for a visit with family we unintentionally ended up at Nindigully for the night and as always, enjoyed yarning away and creating new memories and digging up plenty of old ones. Old rally cars, people and our stories never lose their importance or significance. Whether people and cars come on our rally or not, they have and will always remain solid in our foundations and unique character of who we are. "Our family". On the surface many know Burnsie as a colourful and entertaining character, which he most certainly is. We were fortunate to have spent a lot of time together away from the front and centre limelight out in the bush where we both love to be. We sure have had some fun together but in that we have also shared everything that life dishes up and sharing the hardships, tribulations and always enjoy talking about our next challenge or adventure. Every day is an exciting adventure with Burnsie. Just like the Hummer, we might be a bit weather beaten and rough round the edges these days but we are still good for a lap or two yet. This impromptu, unannounced visit was nothing new in our world as it's pretty much how I've rolled over the years. When out mapping my rallies I never had a plan where I would be that night. I would just saddle up in the morning and put my head down, focus on the job at hand and when I would take a breath and look up late in the afternoon I would often find myself within striking distance of someone I knew. Quick phone call or smoke signal from the edge of town to let them know I'm headed their way and with that would be a wonderful night of catching up, belly laughs and creating new stories to tell. Thank you to all my 'Inn keepers and sympathisers' who have taken me in at little to no notice over the years. Moral to this story; Don't pack up my bed just yet, you never know when I might be out front in your driveway tooting the horn.
